

SAFFR'ACTIV®

Women's health

Promotes emotional well-being naturally

The hormonal changes in women throughout the different stages of life, represent a notable physiological change where the symptoms associated can deeply impact a woman's overall well-being.

As an expert in providing ingredients endorsed by scientific research and studies, GPE has developed SAFFR'ACTIV®, a saffron extract standardized to formally recognized bioactive compounds, >3% crocins and >2% safranal, via repeatable HPLC and UV test methods.

SAFFR'ACTIV® has many applications with scientific evidence, including the enhancement of neuronal preservation and mental health. Moreover, the key component of SAFFR'ACTIV®, the saffron extract, has been proven to positively impact menstruation and fertility.
